1. Introduction

1.1 Welcome

At NexSham Technologies ("NexSham", "we", "our", or "us"), protecting the privacy and security of the information entrusted to us is one of our highest priorities. We understand that privacy is fundamental to building lasting relationships with our clients, partners, and website visitors. This Privacy Policy has been developed to explain, in a clear and transparent manner, how we collect, use, store, disclose, and safeguard personal information when you interact with our website, products, services, and other digital platforms.

As a technology company delivering software development, artificial intelligence solutions, enterprise applications, cloud-based services, web and mobile applications, and digital transformation solutions, we are committed to maintaining responsible data handling practices that respect the privacy of every individual and organization we serve.

Whether you are browsing our website, submitting an inquiry, requesting a quotation, applying for employment, or becoming one of our valued clients, we are committed to ensuring that your information is handled responsibly, securely, and in accordance with applicable privacy laws and recognized industry standards.

This Privacy Policy describes the categories of information we collect, the purposes for which we use it, the circumstances under which it may be shared, the measures we take to protect it, and the rights available to you regarding your personal information. We encourage every visitor to carefully review this document to better understand our privacy practices and make informed decisions when interacting with our services.

By accessing or using the NexSham Technologies website, products, or services, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to the practices described in this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree with any part of this policy, we recommend that you discontinue the use of our services.

1.2 Our Commitment to Privacy

Privacy is not simply a legal requirement for NexSham Technologies—it is an essential part of the trust our clients place in us. We recognize that the information you share with us may include sensitive business details, personal contact information, project requirements, and other confidential data. Protecting that information is a responsibility we take seriously.

To fulfill this commitment, we continuously improve our security practices and implement administrative, technical, and organizational safeguards designed to protect personal information against unauthorized access, disclosure, misuse, alteration, or destruction. Our privacy practices are guided by the principles of transparency, accountability, fairness, and data minimization, ensuring that information is collected only when necessary and processed for legitimate business purposes.

Whenever practical, we strive to provide users with meaningful choices regarding how their information is collected and used. We also regularly review our internal processes, technologies, and policies to maintain a high standard of privacy protection as our services .

1.3 Purpose of This Privacy Policy

The primary purpose of this Privacy Policy is to provide clear and comprehensive information regarding the processing of personal information by NexSham Technologies.

Specifically, this policy explains:

- What types of information we collect.
- How and why we collect that information.
- How personal information is used.
- How long information is retained.
- When information may be shared with trusted third parties.
- The security measures implemented to protect information.
- The privacy rights available to users.
- How users may contact us regarding privacy-related concerns.

This document is intended to promote transparency and help users understand the relationship between their personal information and the services provided by NexSham Technologies.

1.3 Privacy Principles

Principle	Description

3. Scope of This Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy applies to the collection, processing, storage, and protection of personal information obtained through the services and digital platforms operated by NexSham Technologies.

This policy applies to individuals and organizations who interact with us in various capacities, including website visitors, prospective clients, existing customers, business partners, vendors, job applicants, and individuals who communicate with us through email, telephone, social media platforms, or other official communication channels.

The policy covers personal information collected through:

- The official NexSham Technologies website.
- Contact and inquiry forms.
- Service request forms.
- Project consultation requests.
- Customer support communications.
- Business correspondence.
- Marketing and newsletter subscriptions.
- Recruitment and career applications.
- Software products and digital platforms developed and operated by NexSham Technologies.
- Online meetings, webinars, demonstrations, and business events organized by NexSham Technologies.

This Privacy Policy also applies to information collected through technologies such as cookies, analytics platforms, server logs, and other tools used to improve the performance, functionality, and security of our website and services.

However, this Privacy Policy does not apply to:

- Third-party websites that may be linked from our website.
- External applications or services operated independently by third parties.
- Information processed solely on behalf of clients where NexSham Technologies acts only as a service provider and does not determine the purpose or method of processing.
- Information collected through platforms that maintain separate privacy policies.

Users are encouraged to review the privacy policies of any third-party websites or services before providing personal information to those organizations, as NexSham Technologies is not responsible for their privacy practices or content.

4. How We Collect Information

NexSham Technologies collects information through various lawful and transparent methods to provide reliable services, enhance user experience, improve website functionality, maintain security, and fulfill our business and legal obligations. The information we collect depends on how you interact with our website, products, and services. Some information is voluntarily provided by you, while other information is collected automatically through your use of our digital platforms.

We are committed to collecting information only when it is necessary for legitimate business purposes and processing it responsibly in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

4.1 Information You Provide Directly

You may voluntarily provide personal information when interacting with NexSham Technologies through our website or official communication channels. This typically occurs when you submit an inquiry, request a quotation, schedule a consultation, apply for career opportunities, subscribe to newsletters, or contact our support team.

The information you choose to provide enables us to respond to your requests, communicate effectively, deliver our services, and build long-term professional relationships. While providing this information is voluntary, certain services or requests may not be processed without the information necessary to fulfill them.

4.2 Information Collected Automatically

When you visit our website, certain technical and usage information is collected automatically through your browser, device, and server logs. This information helps us understand how visitors interact with our website, improve performance, maintain security, diagnose technical issues, and enhance the overall user experience.

Automatically collected information may include technical identifiers, browser information, operating system details, pages visited, time spent on pages, navigation patterns, referral sources, and other website usage statistics. This information is generally analyzed in an aggregated form and is primarily used to improve our services rather than identify individual users.

4.3 Cookies and Similar Technologies

NexSham Technologies uses cookies and similar technologies to improve website functionality, remember user preferences, enhance security, and better understand how visitors use our website. Cookies allow us to provide a more personalized browsing experience while helping us monitor website performance and identify opportunities for improvement.

Most web browsers allow users to manage or disable cookies through their settings. However, restricting cookies may affect the availability or functionality of certain features offered on our website.

4.4 Information from Third-Party Sources

In certain circumstances, we may receive information from trusted third-party sources, including business partners, publicly available directories, referral programs, professional networking platforms, or analytics providers. Such information is used to verify business details, improve the accuracy of our records, understand user engagement, and support legitimate business operations.

We process information obtained from third parties in accordance with applicable privacy laws and the commitments outlined in this Privacy Policy.

4.5 Summary of Information Collection Methods

Collection Method	Information Collected	Purpose
Website Contact Forms	Name, Email Address, Phone Number, Company Name, Project Details	Respond to inquiries and provide business services
Email & Customer Support	Contact Information, Communication Records, Attachments	Customer support and business communication
Website Usage	Pages Visited, Session Duration, Navigation Activity	Improve website performance and user experience
Cookies & Similar Technologies	Preferences, Session Information, Analytics Data	Website functionality, personalization, and analytics
Career Applications	Resume, Qualifications, Portfolio, Professional Experience	Recruitment and hiring processes
Third-Party Sources	Business Contact Information, Publicly Available Information	Business verification, referrals, and analytics

4.6 Our Commitment to Responsible Data Collection

NexSham Technologies believes that responsible data collection begins with transparency and respect for user privacy. We collect only the information necessary to operate our business, provide our services, improve our products, and comply with applicable legal obligations. We do not intentionally collect excessive or irrelevant information, and we regularly review our data collection

5. Information We Collect

NexSham Technologies collects information that is necessary to provide our services, operate our business, improve user experience, maintain the security of our systems, and comply with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. The type of information collected depends on how you interact with our website, products, and services.

Some information is provided directly by you, while other information is collected automatically through your use of our website or obtained from trusted third-party sources. We are committed to collecting only the information that is reasonably necessary for legitimate business purposes and processing it in a transparent and responsible manner.

The categories of information we collect are described below.

5.1 Personal and Business Information

When you communicate with NexSham Technologies or use our services, you may voluntarily provide personal and business-related information. This information enables us to identify you, communicate effectively, understand your business requirements, provide requested services, and maintain ongoing professional relationships.

Depending on your interaction with us, this information may include your name, email address, phone number, company name, job title, business address, project requirements, billing details, and any additional information you choose to share through our contact forms, emails, support requests, or business discussions.

We use this information only for legitimate business purposes, including responding to inquiries, preparing project proposals, delivering services, managing client relationships, processing transactions where applicable, and fulfilling contractual obligations.

5.2 Technical and Usage Information

Whenever you visit our website, certain technical and usage-related information is collected automatically to ensure the reliability, performance, and security of our services. This information helps us understand how visitors interact with our website, identify technical issues, improve functionality, and enhance the overall user experience.

Technical information may include your IP address, browser type and version, operating system, device information, language preferences, screen resolution, referral sources, and network details. Usage information may include the pages you visit, time spent on each page, navigation patterns, click activity, session duration, and other interactions with our website.

Where possible, this information is analyzed in an aggregated or anonymized form and is primarily used to improve our services rather than identify individual users.

5.3 Cookies and Analytics Information

To improve the functionality and performance of our website, NexSham Technologies uses cookies and similar technologies. These technologies help us remember user preferences, maintain secure browsing sessions, analyze website traffic, measure the effectiveness of our content, and provide a more personalized user experience.

We may also use website analytics tools to better understand visitor behavior, identify areas for improvement, monitor website performance, and support informed business decisions. Users may manage or disable cookies through their browser settings.

5.4 Categories of Information Collected

Category	Examples	Primary Purpose
Personal Information	Name, Email Address, Phone Number	User identification and communication
Business Information	Company Name, Job Title, Business Address, Project Details	Business relationship management and service delivery
Technical Information	IP Address, Browser Type, Operating System, Device Information	Security, diagnostics, and website optimization
Usage Information	Pages Visited, Session Duration, Click Activity, Navigation Patterns	Website analytics and user experience improvement
Communication Information	Emails, Support Requests, Meeting Notes, Contact Form Messages	Customer support and business communication
Recruitment Information	Resume, Qualifications, Portfolio, Professional Experience	Recruitment and hiring processes
Cookies and Analytics	Session Cookies, Preference Cookies, Analytics Data	Website functionality, personalization, and performance analysis

5.5 Information We Do Not Intentionally Collect

NexSham Technologies does not intentionally collect sensitive personal information unless it is required for a specific business purpose and permitted under applicable law. We request that users refrain from submitting confidential personal information that is unnecessary for the services being requested.

Our services are not directed toward children under the age required by applicable law, and we do not knowingly collect personal information from children. If we become aware that such information has been collected inadvertently, we will take appropriate steps to delete it in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

We are committed to reviewing our data collection practices regularly to ensure they remain transparent, proportionate, and aligned with recognized industry standards and evolving privacy regulations.

6. How We Use Your Information

The information collected by NexSham Technologies is used solely for legitimate business purposes that enable us to provide reliable services, maintain secure operations, improve customer experience, and fulfill our contractual and legal obligations. We process personal information responsibly and only for the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy.

The way we use information depends on the nature of your interaction with our website, products, and services. We do not use personal information for purposes that are inconsistent with this Privacy Policy without providing appropriate notice or obtaining consent where required by applicable law.

6.1 Service Delivery and Customer Support

One of the primary purposes of collecting information is to deliver the services requested by our clients and website users. Personal and business information allows us to understand project requirements, prepare proposals, provide consultations, manage client relationships, and deliver software solutions tailored to specific business needs.

We also use this information to respond to inquiries, resolve technical issues, provide customer support, process service requests, and maintain effective communication throughout the duration of our professional relationship.

6.2 Communication and Business Operations

We use your information to communicate important updates regarding our services, respond to requests, provide project-related information, and notify you about changes that may affect your use of our website or services.

Where permitted by applicable law or with your consent, we may also send newsletters, product announcements, promotional materials, event invitations, or other business communications that may be relevant to your interests. You may opt out of receiving marketing communications at any time by following the unsubscribe instructions provided in our emails or by contacting us directly.

6.3 Security, Compliance, and Legal Obligations

Protecting our users, systems, and business operations is a fundamental priority. We use collected information to detect, investigate, and prevent unauthorized access, fraudulent activities, cybersecurity threats, misuse of our services, and other activities that may compromise the integrity of our systems.

Information may also be processed to comply with applicable laws, regulatory requirements, legal proceedings, contractual obligations, or requests from authorized government authorities where disclosure is legally required.

6.4 Service Improvement and Analytics

NexSham Technologies continually evaluates and improves its services to provide a better experience for clients and website visitors. Information relating to website usage, system performance, and customer interactions helps us understand user needs, identify areas for improvement, optimize website functionality, enhance service quality, and develop new features.

Where practical, analytical information is aggregated or anonymized before being used for reporting, statistical analysis, and business decision-making.

6.5 Summary of Information Usage

Purpose	How We Use Your Information
Service Delivery	Provide requested software development, AI solutions, web applications, and other services.
Customer Support	Respond to inquiries, resolve technical issues, and provide ongoing assistance.
Communication	Send project updates, service notifications, newsletters, and business communications where permitted.
Security	Detect fraud, prevent unauthorized access, protect systems, and maintain service integrity.
Analytics & Improvement	Analyze website usage, improve performance, enhance user experience, and develop new features.
Legal Compliance	Comply with applicable laws, regulations, contractual obligations, and lawful requests from authorities.
Business Operations	Manage client relationships, maintain records, process transactions, and support internal administration.

6.6 Our Commitment to Responsible Data Use

NexSham Technologies is committed to using personal information responsibly, ethically, and transparently. We process information only for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy and implement appropriate safeguards to ensure that personal information is not used in a manner that is incompatible with its original purpose. Our goal is to balance operational efficiency with the privacy expectations of our users while maintaining compliance with applicable legal and industry standards.

7. Cookies and Tracking Technologies

NexSham Technologies uses cookies and similar tracking technologies to enhance the functionality, security, and performance of our website. These technologies help us understand how visitors interact with our website, remember user preferences, improve navigation, and deliver a more personalized browsing experience.

Cookies are small text files stored on your device when you visit our website. They allow certain features to function correctly, improve website responsiveness, and help us analyze website traffic and user engagement. The information collected through cookies generally does not directly identify an individual but may be associated with your browsing session or device.

You may choose to disable or manage cookies through your browser settings at any time. However, disabling certain cookies may affect the availability, functionality, or performance of specific features on our website.

7.1 Types of Cookies We Use

NexSham Technologies may use different categories of cookies depending on the services being accessed.

Cookie Type	Purpose
Essential Cookies	Enable core website functionality, security, and navigation.
Preference Cookies	Remember user preferences such as language or display settings.
Analytics Cookies	Help us understand visitor behavior and website performance.
Performance Cookies	Improve website speed, reliability, and overall functionality.
Marketing Cookies	Measure the effectiveness of marketing campaigns where applicable.

7.2 Managing Cookies

Most modern web browsers provide users with the ability to control, restrict, or delete cookies through browser settings. Users may also configure their browsers to notify them whenever cookies are being placed on their devices.

Please note that restricting cookies may limit certain features of our website, including personalized settings, secure login sessions, or other functionality that relies on cookies for proper operation.

7.3 Our Commitment

NexSham Technologies uses cookies responsibly and only for legitimate business purposes, including improving website performance, maintaining security, understanding user engagement, and enhancing the overall browsing experience. We do not use cookies to collect unnecessary personal information, and we regularly review our cookie practices to ensure compliance with applicable privacy regulations.

8. Sharing and Disclosure of Information

NexSham Technologies values the trust placed in us by our users and is committed to protecting the confidentiality of personal information. We do not sell, rent, or trade personal information to third parties for commercial purposes.

However, there are circumstances in which information may be shared with trusted organizations or disclosed when necessary to operate our business, provide services, comply with legal obligations, or protect the rights and security of our company, clients, and users.

Whenever personal information is shared, we take reasonable measures to ensure that recipients maintain appropriate standards of confidentiality, security, and privacy protection.

8.1 When We May Share Information

Personal information may be shared with trusted third parties that assist us in operating our business or delivering services. These may include technology providers, cloud hosting providers, professional advisors.

Information may also be disclosed when required by law, legal process, government authorities, or regulatory agencies, or when necessary to protect the legal rights, property, safety, or security of NexSham Technologies, our users, or others.

8.2 When We Do Not Share Information

NexSham Technologies does not disclose personal information for unrelated commercial purposes or permit unauthorized access to user information. We do not sell personal information to advertisers or data brokers, nor do we share personal information with third parties unless there is a legitimate business purpose, user consent, or a legal requirement to do so.

8.3 Categories of Third Parties

Third Party Category	Purpose of Sharing
Cloud Service Providers	Secure hosting and infrastructure management.
Website Analytics Providers	Website performance analysis and usage insights.
Communication Platforms	Customer support and business communications.
Professional Advisors	Legal, accounting, and compliance assistance.
Government Authorities	Compliance with legal obligations where required by law.
Business Partners	Service delivery and project collaboration where appropriate.

8.4 Business Transfers

If NexSham Technologies undergoes a merger, acquisition, corporate restructuring, asset sale, or similar business transaction, personal information may be transferred as part of that process. In such circumstances, appropriate measures will be taken to ensure that personal information continues to be protected in accordance with this Privacy Policy or an equivalent standard.

9. Data Security

Protecting the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of personal information is a fundamental responsibility of NexSham Technologies. We implement appropriate administrative, technical, and organizational safeguards designed to protect personal information against unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, misuse, loss, or destruction.

Our security practices are regularly reviewed and updated to address evolving cybersecurity risks and to maintain the reliability of our systems and services.

While no method of electronic transmission or storage can guarantee absolute security, we continuously work to strengthen our security controls and follow recognized industry practices to minimize potential risks.

9.1 Security Measures

To safeguard personal information, NexSham Technologies employs a combination of technical and organizational security measures designed to protect our systems and data throughout their lifecycle.

These measures help ensure that access to personal information is appropriately restricted, systems remain secure, and data is protected against accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure, or access.

9.2 Security Practices

Security Measure	Purpose
Secure Data Transmission	Protect information exchanged between users and our website using encrypted connections.
Access Controls	Restrict access to authorized personnel based on business responsibilities.
Authentication Mechanisms	Help verify user identity before granting access to protected systems.
System Monitoring	Detect unusual activities, security incidents, and potential threats.
Regular Security Reviews	Evaluate and improve security controls and operational practices.
Data Backup Procedures	Support business continuity and recovery in the event of system failures.

9.3 User Responsibilities

While NexSham Technologies takes reasonable measures to protect personal information, users also play an important role in maintaining security. We encourage users to protect their account credentials, use strong passwords, avoid sharing sensitive information unnecessarily, and promptly notify us if they become aware of any suspected unauthorized access or security incident involving their interactions with our services.

9.4 Continuous Improvement

Information security is an ongoing process. NexSham Technologies regularly reviews its security practices, operational procedures, and internal policies to improve the protection of personal information and adapt to emerging technologies, evolving business needs, and changing regulatory requirements. Our objective is to maintain a secure environment that supports the trust and confidence of our clients, partners, and website visitors.

10. Data Retention

NexSham Technologies retains personal information only for as long as it is necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, including providing our services, maintaining business relationships, complying with contractual obligations, resolving disputes, enforcing our agreements, and meeting applicable legal or regulatory requirements.

The length of time for which personal information is retained depends on the type of information, the purpose of its collection, and any applicable legal or business requirements. We regularly review our retention practices to ensure that personal information is not kept longer than necessary.

Once personal information is no longer required, we securely delete, anonymize, or dispose of the information using appropriate technical and organizational measures designed to prevent unauthorized access or recovery.

10.1 Data Retention Schedule

Convert the following into a table in Microsoft Word.

Information Category	Typical Retention Period
Contact Form Submissions	Up to 12 Months
Customer Communication Records	Up to 24 Months
Project Documentation	Duration of the Project and Applicable Contractual Period
Business Records	As Required by Applicable Laws and Business Requirements
Website Analytics Data	Up to 26 Months
System Logs	Up to 90 Days
Recruitment Information	Up to 12 Months After Completion of Recruitment
Marketing Preferences	Until Consent is Withdrawn

10.2 Secure Disposal of Information

When personal information reaches the end of its retention period or is no longer required for legitimate business purposes, NexSham Technologies follows secure disposal procedures to permanently delete, anonymize, or otherwise render the information inaccessible. These practices help minimize the risk of unauthorized access while supporting responsible data lifecycle management.

11. Your Privacy Rights

NexSham Technologies respects the rights of individuals regarding their personal information. Depending on your location and the privacy laws applicable to you, you may have certain rights relating to the personal information we collect and process.

We are committed to responding to legitimate privacy-related requests in a timely and transparent manner. To protect your information, we may request additional details to verify your identity before processing certain requests.

11.1 Your Rights

Depending on applicable law, you may have the right to:

- Access the personal information we hold about you.
- Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete information.
- Request deletion of personal information where legally applicable.
- Request restriction of processing in certain circumstances.
- Object to specific processing activities permitted under applicable law.
- Withdraw consent where processing is based on consent.
- Request a copy of your personal information in a commonly used electronic format where applicable.

These rights may be subject to certain legal limitations or exceptions depending on the applicable jurisdiction.

11.2 Exercising Your Rights

If you wish to exercise any of your privacy rights, you may contact NexSham Technologies using the contact information provided in this Privacy Policy. We will review your request carefully and respond within a reasonable period in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

In certain circumstances, we may be unable to fulfill a request where we are legally required to retain information, where disclosure would adversely affect the rights of others, or where continued processing is necessary for legitimate business purposes.

11.3 Privacy Rights Summary

Privacy Right	Description
Right to Access	Request access to the personal information we maintain about you.
Right to Correction	Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete information.
Right to Deletion	Request deletion of personal information where legally applicable.
Right to Restrict Processing	Request limitation of processing under certain circumstances.
Right to Object	Object to specific processing activities permitted by law.
Right to Withdraw Consent	Withdraw previously provided consent for data processing.
Right to Data Portability	Request a copy of your information in a portable electronic format where applicable.

12. International Data Transfers

NexSham Technologies primarily operates its services using infrastructure and service providers selected for their reliability, security, and operational efficiency. Depending on the nature of our services and the technologies we use, personal information may be processed or stored in locations outside your country of residence.

Whenever personal information is transferred across international borders, we take reasonable steps to ensure that appropriate safeguards are in place to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and security of such information. These safeguards may include contractual obligations with service providers, industry-standard security practices, and compliance with applicable privacy laws governing international data transfers.

Where required by law, we will implement additional measures to ensure that cross-border transfers provide an adequate level of protection for personal information. Our objective is to ensure that personal information receives the same level of protection regardless of where it is processed.

13. Third-Party Services

Our website and services may include links to third-party websites, platforms, tools, or applications that operate independently from NexSham Technologies. These third-party services maintain their own privacy policies and terms of use, which govern the collection, processing, and protection of personal information.

While we carefully select trusted business partners and service providers, NexSham Technologies does not control or assume responsibility for the privacy practices, content, or security of third-party services. We encourage users to review the privacy policies of any third-party website or service before providing personal information.

Where third-party service providers process information on our behalf, we require them to maintain appropriate security standards and process information only for authorized business purposes consistent with our contractual obligations.

14. Children's Privacy

NexSham Technologies does not knowingly collect, solicit, or process personal information from children under the age required by applicable law. Our website, products, and services are intended primarily for businesses, professionals, and individuals who are legally capable of providing personal information.

If we become aware that personal information has been inadvertently collected from a child without appropriate authorization, we will take reasonable steps to delete such information promptly. Parents or legal guardians who believe that a child has submitted personal information to NexSham Technologies are encouraged to contact us so that appropriate action can be taken.

15. Business Transfers

As NexSham Technologies continues to grow, there may be circumstances in which our business undergoes organizational changes such as a merger, acquisition, investment, corporate restructuring, sale of assets, or other business transaction.

In such cases, personal information may be transferred as part of the transaction, provided that the receiving organization agrees to protect such information in accordance with this Privacy Policy or an equivalent standard of privacy protection. Any transfer of personal information will be conducted in compliance with applicable legal and contractual obligations, and users will be informed where required by law.

16. Changes to This Privacy Policy

NexSham Technologies may revise this Privacy Policy periodically to reflect changes in our services, technologies, business operations, or applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Whenever significant changes are made, the updated version will be published on our official website together with a revised "Last Updated" date. We encourage users to review this Privacy Policy periodically to remain informed about how we collect, use, and protect personal information.

Continued use of our website or services after the updated Privacy Policy becomes effective constitutes acceptance of the revised policy to the extent permitted by applicable law.

17. Contact Us
